STM INVESTMENT

Powering What's Possible

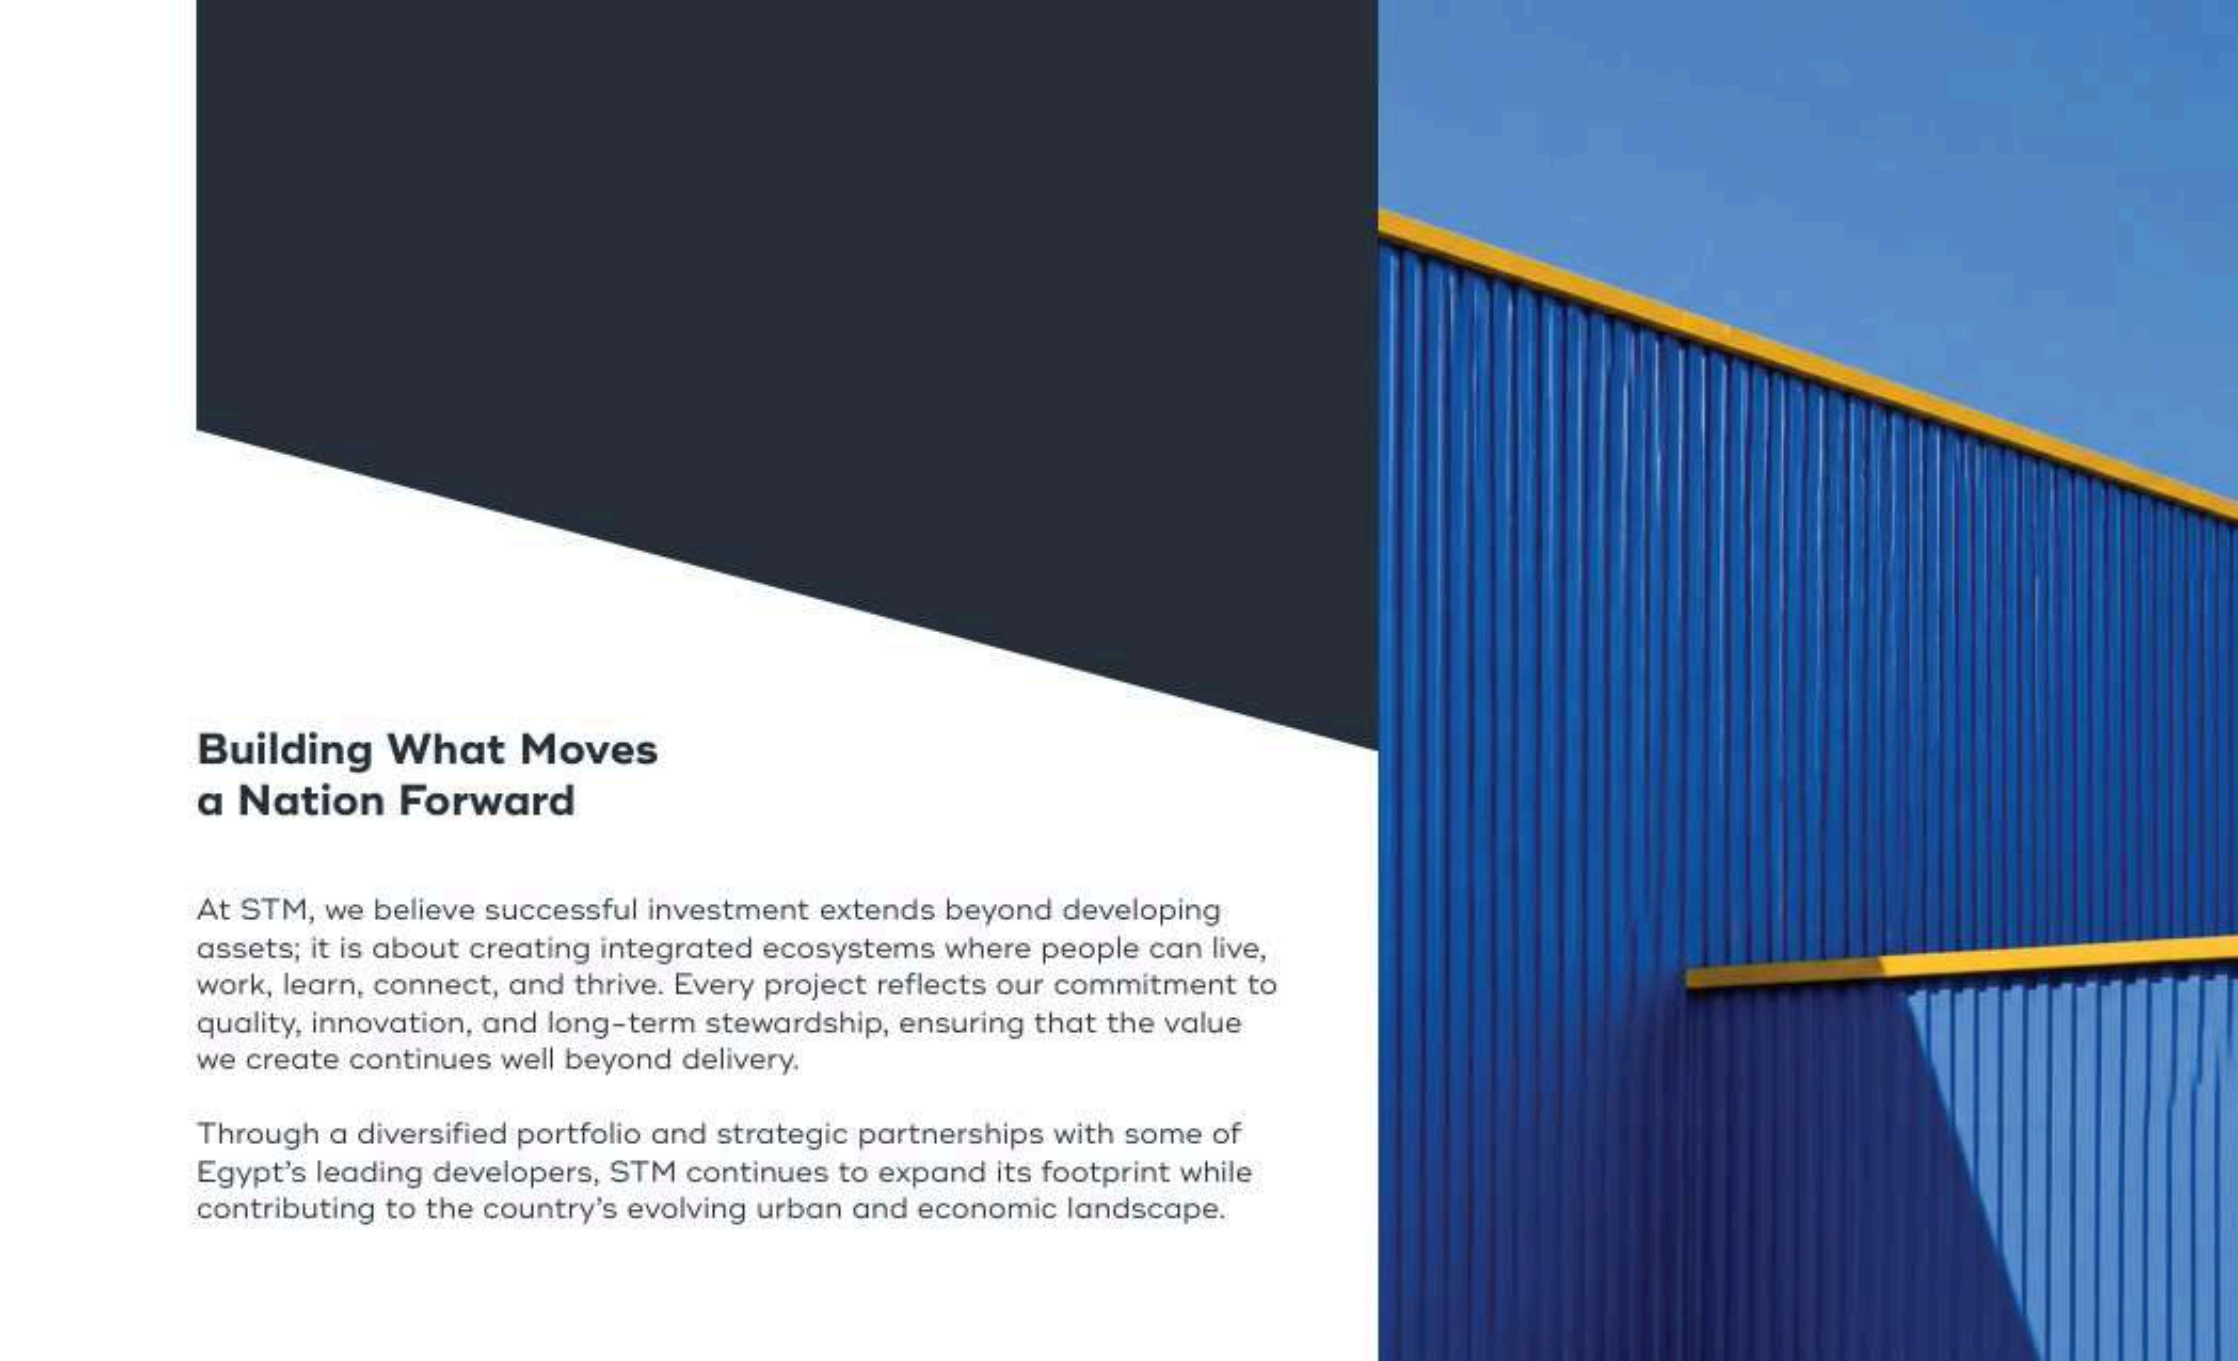

STM Investment is a diversified Egyptian investment and development group committed to creating long-term value through strategic investments across real estate, commercial, sports, education, hospitality, and integrated urban infrastructure.

With a growing portfolio of fully owned developments and strategic partnerships, STM plans, develops, operates, and manages destinations that serve the evolving needs of communities, businesses, and future generations. From residential communities and commercial hubs to sport clubs, educational institutions, and hospitality projects, every investment is driven by a long-term vision for sustainable growth and meaningful impact.

By combining strategic foresight, disciplined execution, and operational excellence, STM transforms opportunities into thriving destinations that contribute to Egypt's economic development while creating enduring value for partners, investors, and communities.

More than a developer, STM is a catalyst for progress and a symbol of enduring trust.

STM

Building What Moves a Nation Forward

At STM, we believe successful investment extends beyond developing assets; it is about creating integrated ecosystems where people can live, work, learn, connect, and thrive. Every project reflects our commitment to quality, innovation, and long-term stewardship, ensuring that the value we create continues well beyond delivery.

Through a diversified portfolio and strategic partnerships with some of Egypt's leading developers, STM continues to expand its footprint while contributing to the country's evolving urban and economic landscape.

Transforming Potential into Progress

Trust is built through consistent delivery and long-term commitment. Across every sector we operate in, STM combines strategic thinking, disciplined execution, and operational excellence to deliver projects that create lasting value.

Our success is measured not only by the destinations we develop, but by the communities we build, the partnerships we cultivate, and the impact we create for Egypt's future.

The STM STREAM Approach

At the heart of STM Education is STREAM, an integrated educational approach that brings together Science, Technology, Roots & Identity, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics. By connecting these disciplines, STREAM creates a well-rounded learning experience that combines academic knowledge with creativity, practical application, and a strong connection to our Egyptian roots and identity.

The STREAM approach goes beyond traditional classroom learning by encouraging students to learn through experience and practice. Through experimentation, problem-solving, projects, workshops, and hands-on activities, students are encouraged to apply their knowledge to real-life situations while developing critical thinking, collaboration, creativity, and practical skills.

Alongside academic and practical learning, STREAM places a strong emphasis on heritage, culture, values, and identity. Students are encouraged to understand and develop a strong connection to their roots, while gaining the perspective and skills needed to engage confidently with the wider world.

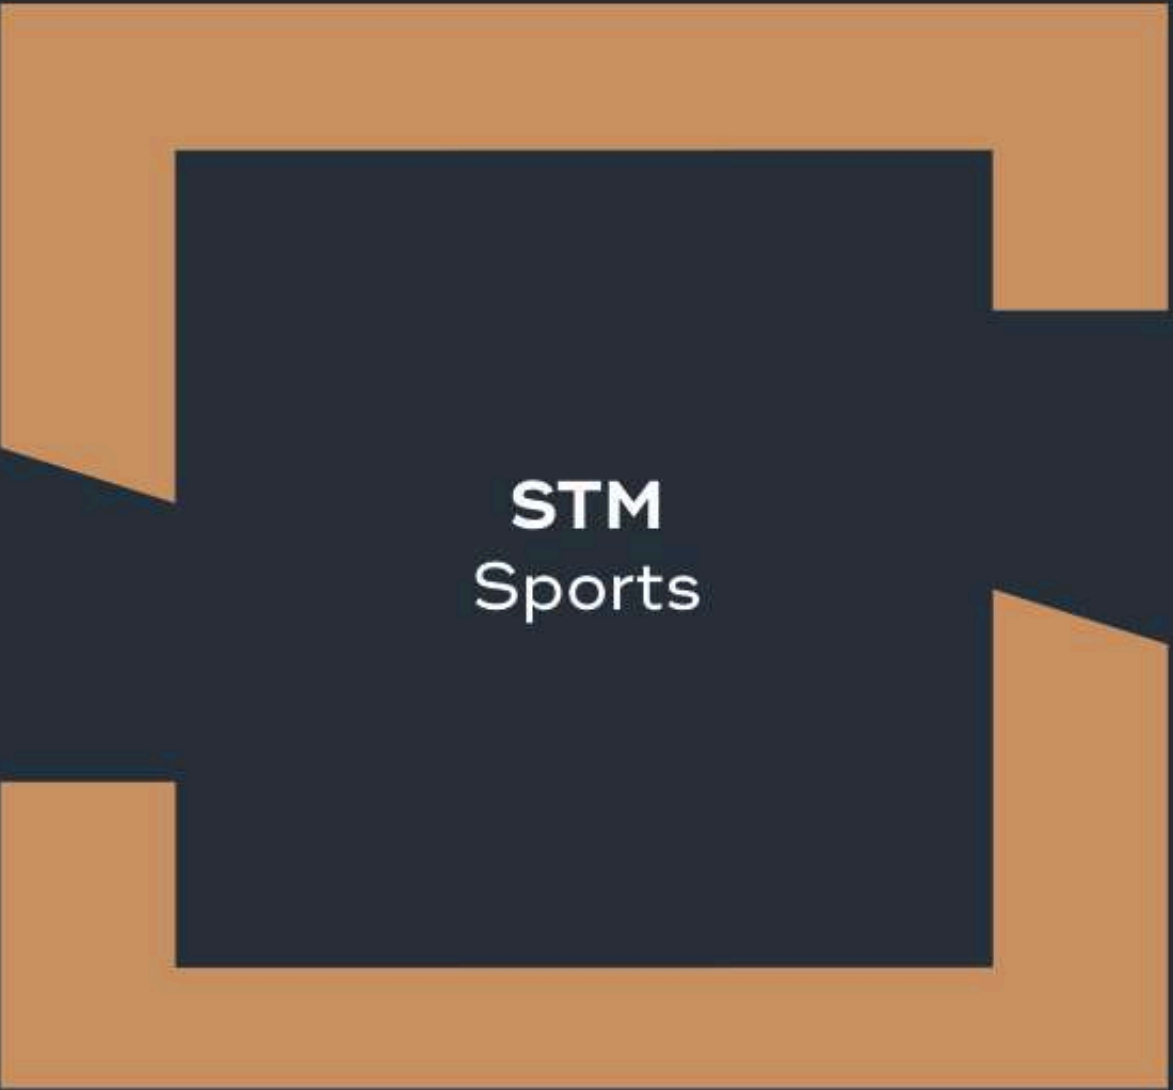

Career Technical Education (CTE) & Innovation at STM

We develop scalable, industry-aligned CTE ecosystems that integrate academic rigor, technical excellence, and applied learning. Through strategic industry partnerships and internationally benchmarked pathways, we create differentiated education models that strengthen student outcomes, enhance employability, and position our schools to meet the evolving demands of global economies.

We drive transformation across K–12 education by embedding innovation into curriculum, pedagogy, technology, and school operations. Our future-ready models integrate AI, STREAM, entrepreneurship, digital learning, and interdisciplinary experiences to create high-performing learning environments that enhance institutional value, strengthen market positioning, and prepare students for success in a rapidly changing global landscape.
